Larry Eyler

Scotch
Recording Tape

A native of Crawfordsville, Indiana, born December 21, 1952, Eyler was the youngest of four children born to parents who divorced while he was young. Dropping out of high school in his senior year, he worked odd jobs for a couple of years before earning his GED. Sporadic enrollment in college between 1974 and '78 left Eyler without a degree, and he finally pulled up stakes, making the move to Chicago.

Unknown to friends and relatives, Larry Eyler was a young man at war within himself, struggling to cope with homosexual tendencies which simultaneously fascinated and repelled him. Like John Gacy and a host of others, he would learn to take his sex where he could find it, forcefully, and then eliminate the evidence his abiding shame of.

On March 22, 1982, Jay Reynolds was found, stabbed to death on the outskirts of Lexington, Kentucky. Nine months later, on October 3, 14-year-old Delvoyd Baker was strangled, his body dumped on the roadside north of Indianapolis. Steven Crockett, 19, was the victim on October 23, stabbed 32 times with four wounds in the head, discarded outside Lowell, Indiana. The killer moved into Illinois on November 6, leaving Robert Foley in a field northwest of Joliet. Police were slow to see the pattern forming, unaware that they had already spoken with one survivor. Drugged and beaten near Lowell, Indiana, on November 4, 21-year-old Craig Townsend had escaped from the hospital before detectives completed their investigation of the unprovoked assault.

The transient slayer celebrated Christmas 1982 by dumping 25-year-old John Johnson's body in a field outside Belshaw, Indiana. Three days later, it was a double-header, with 21-year-old John Roach discovered near Belleville, and the trussed-up body of Steven Agan, a Terre Haute native, discarded north of Newport, Indiana.

The grim toll continued to rise through the spring of 1983, with most of the action shifting to Illinois. By July 2, the body-count stood at twelve, with the latter victims mutilated after death, a few disemboweled. Ralph Calise made unlucky thirteen on August 31, dumped in a field near Lake Forest, Illinois. He had been dead less than twelve hours when he was discovered, bound with clothesline and surgical tape, stabbed 17 times, his pants pulled down around his ankles.

On September 30, 1983, an Indiana highway patrolman spotted a pickup truck parked along Interstate 65, with two men moving toward a nearby stand of trees. One appeared to be bound, and the officer went to investigate, identifying Larry Eyler as the owner of the truck. His young companion accused Eyler of making homosexual propositions, then asking permission to tie him up. A search of the pickup revealed surgical tape, nylon clothesline, and a hunting knife stained with human blood. Forensics experts noted that the blood type matched Ralph Calise's, while tire tracks and imprints of Eyler's boots made a fair match with tracks from the field where Calise was discovered. While the investigation continued, with Eyler still at liberty, the murders likewise kept pace. On October 4, 1983, 14-year-old Derrick Hansen was found dismembered, near Kenosha, Wisconsin. Eleven days later, a young "John Doe" was discovered near Rensselaer, Indiana. October 18 yielded four bodies in Newton County, dumped together at an abandoned farm; one victim had been decapitated, and all had their pants pulled down, indicating sexual motives in the slayings. Another "John Doe" was recovered on December 5, near Effingham, Illinois, and the body-count jumped again, two days later, when Richard Wayne and an unidentified male were found dead near Indianapolis.

By this time, police had focused their full attention on Larry Eyler. Craig Townsend had been traced to Chicago, after fleeing the Indiana hospital, and he grudgingly identified photographs of Eyler. Another survivor chimed in with similar testimony, but investigators wanted their man for homicide, and the circumstantial case was still incomplete. Facing constant surveillance in Chicago, Eyler filed a civil suit against the Lake County sheriff's office, accusing officers of mounting a "psychological warfare" campaign to unhinge his mind. His claim for half a million dollars was denied, and as he left the courtroom, Eyler was arrested for the Ralph Calise murder, held in lieu of $1 million bond. Police were jubilant until a pretrial hearing, on February 5, 1984, led to exclusion of all the evidence recovered from Eyler's truck. Released on bail, the killer went about his business while investigators scrambled to salvage their failing case. On May 7, 1984, 22-year-old David Block was found murdered near Zion, Illinois, his wounds conforming to the pattern of his predecessors. Police got a break three months later, on August 21, when a janitor's skittish dog led his master to examine Eyler's garbage, in Chicago. Police were swiftly summoned to claim the remains of Danny Bridges, 15, a homosexual hustler whose dismembered body had been neatly bagged for disposal.

Eyler's arrogance had finally undone him. Experts noted that the Bridges mutilations were a carbon copy of the Derrick Hansen case, outside Kenosha, in October 1983. Convicted of the Bridges slaying on July 9, 1986, Eyler was sentenced to die. But before the sentence could be carried out, Eyler died of AIDS on March 6, 1994. His deathbed confession to 20 murders claimed that an accomplice to some of the killings is still at large. Police investigations are continuing.

A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE

As

REVEALED BY FAMILY AND STATE RECORDS

Prepared by

HORACE A. EILAR 11897

INTRODUCTION

"Facts pertaining to family history like wine - improve in value with age." The quotation is in the family Bible and in the handwriting of Augustus L. Eilar, dated January 18, 1905.

With the sentiment expressed in this quotation, Horace A. Eilar asked his brother, Jesse H. Eilar, to compile in some sort of readable form all the known facts concerning the family origin, and children. The facts are taken from family and state records and are within a reasonable degree accurate.

Newcastle, Indiana
December 19, 1934

DEDICATION

This history is dedicated to Mary Elizabeth 11847
Jane "Pet" Robertson Eilar, by her son Horace, who is 11897
the last of a numerous family to share the family table with her, as a regular boarder. Mother weighs, and has since her children can remember, about two hundred pounds; is in excellent health, and bids fair to rival her grandmother Robertson, who reared her as a child. She was named in the above fashion because all her grandparents wanted her named after them; and in despair her folks came to call her "Pet" for short. This may have added to her weight! At least, it didn't subtract anything from it!

EARLY ORIGIN OF THE FAMILY

A stained scrap of paper dated June 16, 1704, states that W. Conrad Oiler paid in full of account the sum of twenty-nine shillings two pence. This scrap of receipted paper has been in the family possession for 230 years, and is now preserved by J. H. Eilar, of New Castle, Indiana.

A letter from H. H. Shenk, state archivist of Pennsylvania, shows that a deposition is made by Valentine Eyler in Lancaster County, Penn., Aug. 29, 1746. Valentine deposes that his age is 24, and his father's name is Conrad Eyler. Again in 1756 Valentine deposes, this time in York County, which was erected from Lancaster County. 1223

Records furthermore show that Conrad Eyler bought 200 acres of land in Lancaster County in 1738. Both he and his son Valentine made their mark in these legal transactions.

It is entirely logical to assume that the W. Conrad Oiller of the family heirloom and the Conrad Eyler of the Pennsylvania records are one and the same man. Since in the first century of the family residence in America no one who transacted legal business was sufficiently familiar with the English language to correct errors, the name was always spelled as it sounded.

In the family papers the name appears in the following devious manner: Oiller, Euler, Oyler Eyler, Eyeler, Iler, Ilar, Oilar, Ehler, Eiler, Eilers, Eisler, and finally Eilar. Ship records show many Eyler's and Eiler's arriving from Rotterdam and Amsterdam into Philadelphia between the years 1689 and 1748. There is direct reason to assume that these men came from the German Palatinate during the disturbances occurring between these dates.

The German Palatinate was a division of Bavaria, a Free State, with the capital at Speyer. It was a region noted for its wine, flax, potatoes, and bountiful crops of wheat, rye, barley, tobacco, and hemp. The counts Palatinate appear as far back as the 11th century, holding leading positions among the German princes. During the wars of Louis XIV the Palatinate was mercilessly devastated by the French armies, and during the years immediately following 1689 the landed Bavarians were forced to seek fresh start in other lands. Mnay came to America. Most of them settled in Pennsylvania as "Pennsylvania Dutch."

Whether W. Conrad Oiller came as a dispossessed Bavarian in this period is of course not fully known; but evidence points almost conclusively that way. Whether landed or titled baron, or merely commoner, is a matter of guess work, for prince and peasant were reduced to a common level by these wars.

Prof. Knipp of the University of Illinois reports to the writer having spent some time in the Deutscher-Euler House, a large hotel in Switzerland. A Leonardo Euler contributed a trignometric function to mathematics.

The German umlaut "EU" is pronounced "OI" or "OY". If W. Conrad came, endentured, as the records show, from Amsterdam, and told his creditor that his name was W. Conrad Euler, his way of pronouncing the name would have justified the spelling on the receipt referred to above. And on various occasions the same error would be accounted for on the part of those who took the name by sound from a German immigrant whose knowledge of English didn't admit of correction of such errors.

Popular given names back through all the state and family records are: William Valentine, John, Jacob, Samuel, George, Benjamin, Daniel, Martin, David. The writer's father was named Augustus Valentine, carrying forward this tradition; but when he embarked upon a business career he thougt the middle initial was not euphonious, so he changed it to L.

This much, then, is evident: Sometime between 1689 and 1704 W. Conrad Oiler (Euler) was shipped, endentured, from Bavaria to Pennsylvania, and by 1724 was father of a son named Valentine. He bought a farm in Lancaster County, running true to inherited tendency, in 1738. And it seems that his son
J. JACOB X Valentine has become by 1745 the father of a son, whom he names 32→ Valentine. This son is born in Lancaster County, Penn., and died near Dayton, Ohio, Dec., 13, 1812, age 68, and is buried there.

In 1747 Susannah Culp was born in the same locality that was the early home of Valentine Eilar. In 1762 she became a member of the German Baptist Church and retained her membership until her death which occurred March 27, 1838. Her headstone is in the Brick Cemetry, near Hagerstown, Indiana, where she was buried at the advanced age of 91 years. Sometime in early life she had become the wife of Valentine Eilar.

Revolutionary War records, in the Henry County Historical Society and in Pennsylvania State Records show the names of 25413? Henry Eiler, Martin and Michael Ehler, as enlisted in the Firing Squadron, mustered in at Lancaster from surrounding areas. Many Culps were in the army; but the name of Valentine is not listed. If as a German Baptist he served, it may have been for short terms of enlistment in troops not regularly enumerated.

In the first United States Census, taken in 1790, Valentine Ehler is listed as head of a family and as having one son and one daughter. This may or may not have been our ancestor, but if it was he migrated to Grozeal Island, Colchester Township, Essex County, Upper Canada, prior to March 17, 1791, at which time it is recorded in the Samuel Eilar Bible that young "Sammy" entered this life. Grozeal Island is just across Lake Erie, and would have been accessible in that period of time. Why the family went to Canada and remained for about twenty years is again not known.

III

SAMUEL EILAR AND HIS FAMILY

Samuel Eilar was born on Grozeal Island, Colchester Twp., Essex County, Upper Canada, March 17, 1791, according to the family Bible. In the same vicinity Feb. 19, 1791, was born Susannah Snider.

On January 29, 1811, Samuel Eilar and Susannah Snider were united in marriage by R. Richardson, Esq. Shortly after the marriage Samuel and wife moved across Lake Erie, and down into the vicinity of Dayton, Ohio. With them came Valentine and Susannah, the parents of Samuel. As stated above, Valentine passed away in the winter of 1813, and is buried near Dayton.

While Samuel resides near Dayton, Ohio, three children are born; David, on June 15, 1813; Elizabeth, on Aug. 9, 1815; Ester, May 8, 1817. It is shown that Samuel is drafted for service in the War of 1812, but religious scruples and his recent migration from Canada lead him to secure a substitute.

In about 1818 Samuel and family, together with his mother, Susannah Culp Eilar, moved to Wayne County, Indiana, and Samuel bought 160 acres of land from the government at the location of what is now the Brick Church, one mile west of Hagerstown, Indiana. Here Samuel built a substantial house and barn, and donated the land for the Brick Church, and aided in the erection of the Church which is still standing. The original barn, remodeled, is standing.

Solomon, infant son of Samuel and Susannah, was the first person buried in the Brick Cemetery, which was then the family burial ground on the hill, under the evergreens. Near Solomon's grave is the grave of Susannah Culp Eiler, and her stone records that at the time of her death--March 27, 1838--she was 91 years old, and "was a member of the German Baptist Church for 75 years." In her later years she served as sort of doctor and mid-wife for the neighbors in her community.

The writer has heard many old residents tell of the sturdy, jovial nature and striking personality of Sammy Eilar, whom they recalled as children attending the "Big Meetings" held annually in the Brick, and heralding a season of big "feeds" and gay times for the children; and of happy re-unions for the elders. Benjamin William Eilar leaves this reminder: "Grandfather Eilar was a large man, weighing about 250 pounds; he had a fair complexion, wore a full beard, and long hair. He was known far and near for his generosity, and would drive in the old family high-wheeled wagon (which is still owned by David Woolard and was exhibited in the Hagerstown Centennial) and leave meat, flour, and other provisions at the door of needy widows, and orphans, driving quickly away before they could embarrass him with their thanks.

Samuel died while on a visit in Kosiusko County, Indiana, June 12, 1875, at the age of 85. He had never been sick, it is said.

III

DANIEL EILAR AND HIS FAMILY

11843 11844

On January 18, 1860, Daniel H. Eilar and Margaret Smith were married by Christian Holler at the home of John Richardson, at Buck Creek, Indiana, in Henry County. They at first lived on the "Shultz Place", in a cabin in the woods, between the Solomon Bowman farm and the Samuel Eilar homestead. Here, as Grandma used to say, "Gust was a baby."

The children of Samuel Eilar drifted away from the "Good Earth" and lost their land hunger in this generation. But they continued to have an instinctive yearning for the early morning dew, and the rising sun, which no doubt has come down from their Bavarian land-loving ancestors back of the days of W. Conrad Euler.

Many are the tales the writer has heard--and still hears--of the gigantic strength of Daniel Eilar, and his feats of physical prowess in barn raisings and elsewhere. He stood considerably above six feet, and was muscular, with never much surplus weight, although the scales registered far above the 200 pound mark. He left the shelter of the family home and took to well digging as a trade.

In 1864 Daniel and Margaret moved to a three and one-half acre plot, deeded to them by Margaret's father, John Smith. Here were born many of their Children, and here died Margaret and Daniel. This is located five miles west of Hagerstown, Indiana, and is in Liberty Township, Henry County. It is now occupied and owned by Elizabeth Eilar, widow of Augustus L. Eilar, son of Daniel and Margaret.

A word about the Smith family might be in order here:

John Smith father of Margaret, was born in Pennsylvania, Jan. 11, 1812. Later he was a carpenter near Dayton, Ohio, where 42684 he married Mary Bowser, who was born near Dayton, Aug. 13, 1813. John Smith was of English origin, and Mary Bowser was Dutch or German, as we have the records. John was a great church and Sunday School worker and organizer, having organized the Sunday School of the Brethern at Locust Grove. He came to Indiana and settled first near Cicero, Indiana, a place which Grandma called the "Salamone". Then, she says, "We moved to this settlement from the Salamone when I was three years old."

The Smith homestead is in Liberty Township, Henry County, and the three acre plot is still in the family. There are four houses now on the original eighty-acre farm. John Smith 42683 died May 23, 1888; and Mary died March 25, 1890, on the Liberty Township farm. Both are buried at the Brick near the Eilar family of Samuel.

Grandma's brothers and sisters were: Daniel, the doctor, who left one son, named "Little George", now deceased; Mary, Sarah, Julia, Corinne, and Johnny. Only Sarah and Corinne are surviving. Elizabeth, called "Sis"; Henry, a justice of the peace in Newcastle, and survived by Will O. Smith, a son; "the twins" ; George; Rebecca; and "Nan" Heaston. George is survived by his daughter, Ida Hoover, Rebecca moved to California and is buried there. She married Orlando Foutz, and is survived by several children in California; "Nan" married Dan Heaston, and is survived by her children, near Huntington, Ind.

Margaret died at her home April 18, 1918 age 77, and is buried at the Brick Cemetery.

The children of Daniel and Margaret Eilar were as follows:

11845 Charles Sandford, born March 28, 1862; died in infancy.

11848 Augustus L. born Sept. 29, 1864; died Nov. 1, 1927, age 63.

11910 James Martin, born Nov. 18, 1867; died in infancy.

11911 Benjamin William, born Nov. 29, 1870; died Feb. 2, 1930 age 60.

11923 Samuel George, born Feb. 21, 1873.

11979 Elnora, born Feb. 1, 1876.

11981 Lewis Daniel, born Jan. 25, 1879.

Of the children of Daniel Eilar, Benjamin William went to Newcastle and engaged successively in the drug business, bridgebuilding, and later became color sergeant in his regiment in the Spanish American War. He was retired on a pension; married Lobelle Clark, a practical nurse, Nov 8, 1922; and died Feb. 2, 1930, leaving a daughter Virgie and a son, Billy, Jr. "Bill", as he was known, stood almost six and a half feet in height, weighed almost 300 pounds, and was the tallest man in his regiment. He was very intelligent, thrifty, and left his family a fair competence.

11923 11924

Samuel George followed his father in the trade of well drilling. He married Alpha Lenora Pressel, May 13, 1903; and is the father of a large family of daughters and one son. They are: Goldie, deceased; Clara Francis; Mabel; Hazel; Dorothy; Pauline; Mildred; Norman. Samuel has been a devoted church worker all his life, is rated as one of the strongest men in the county, and is a worthey name sake of Sammy Eilar of the past. He owns different properties in Newcastle and in Liberty Township and has a thrifty wife who bears an enviable reputation for hospitality and as being an unusually good cook of appetizing dinners.

Elnora married Orlando Brooks Locke Jan. 25, 1898. Orlando was the son of Aaron and Charity Brooks Locke, a fine old pioneer family of Wayne County. He died April , 1933. Elnora, a faithful member of the Brethern Church, survives and resides in Ashland, Indiana.

11981

Lewis Daniel married Grace Moore, July 1, 1905. He lives in Newcastle, Indiana, and is engaged in the well business. His wife is unusually well informed, cultured, and a faultless house keeper. They have one daughter, Opal, wife of Robert Carter.

IV

AUGUSTUS L. EILAR AND HIS FAMILY

Augustus L. Eilar was born, as we have stated, on the "Shults Place" Sept. 29, 1864. If I.Qs had been invented in his day, he beyond question would have registered as "genius".

In his prime he stood well above six feet in height. and weighed about 260 pounds. Possessed of a driving urge to know things, and being a tireless reader, he built up a store of knowledge and facts that gave him the reputation of limitless learning. He taught school for six years; engaged successively in the drug and real estate business; then invented a standard business chart, which the Courier Publishing Company printed for him.

He reached his place as super-salesman; and when attired in his Prince Albert coat, silk top hat, diamond "dazzler"; patent leather shoes; an imposing presence he invariably made his sale. In fact, he laid the foundation of a large estate, starting so many real estate purchases, that when the financial collapse came in the middle nineties everything went and he found himself with a growing family and the necessity for a fresh start, just as W. Conrad Euler had found himself back in the days of the Palatinate collapse.

Many tales are told of his strength, his brilliant conversational ability, his vast memory of people and events, and his achievements. After his losses, and a period of partial stagnation, he came back and worked as advertising manager of the Newcastle Times, and regained much of his zest and zeal. A strenuous life, together with his boundless appetite for good food, which was equally effective at midnight as at mid-day, led to his untimely death at the too-early age of 63, from circulatory breakdown.

His brother, William had receipts of chart sales far in excess of $125,000. But "Dad" held to the story that "anyone that looked upon money as a thing to save has a microbe working on him". He spent joyously; when employed kept the cupboard filled with "eats" of every description; and surrounded his family with "books", books, and more books; astronomy, chemistry, philosophy, travel, fiction, history. He was a gardener whose handiwork made passersby stop and admire; an obituary writer whose obituaries are still the talk of his neighborhood; and his advice to his sons was: "Whatever is worth doing at all, be it digging a ditch, ricking up cordwood, teaching school, or making a garden, is worth doing well."

He and mother had the faculty of laughing until their sides shook over human interest happenings among their friends and acquaintances.

When a young school teacher in the Chicago Corner neighborhood "Gus" met and married a girl named Elizabeth Jane Robertson. He was 21 and she was 15. They "went to housekeeping on the Wayne County line in the Frank Hoover home. Later they moved to Newcastle, Indiana, shortly after their marriage which occurred Dec. 13, 1885, and finally they returned to Liberty Township to the Daniel Eilar homestead, at which place Augustus died, Nov. 1, 1927.

The children of Augustus L. and Elizabeth Jane Eilar were:

Lola Agnes, born in Liberty Township, March 1, 1887. Tues. 9 P.M.
Jesse Howard, born Feb. 6, 1889, in Newcastle, Ind. Wed. 2 A.M.
Ethel Evelyn, born Sept. 23, 1891, in Newcastle, Ind. Died in infancy.
Grace Marie, born Oct. 13, 1892, in Newcastle, Ind. Thurs. 4. P.M.
Russell Edgar, born Dec. 28, 1894, in Newcastle, Ind. Friday, 7:30 P.M.
Loring Augustus, born July 8, 1897, in Newcastle, Ind. Thurs. 9:15 P.M.
Horace Addison, born March 10, 1901, in Liberty Township Sun, 10 P.M.
Ruby Florence, born Feb. 22, 1905, in Liberty Township 9:30 P.M.
Ronald Harvey, born April 4, 1909, in Liberty Township Sun. 8:30 P.M.

Lola married Henry F. Weber, Nov. 26, 1904, at the home of Samuel and Nora Eilar, in Newcastle, Ind. Their children were: Raymond Ellsworth, born in Hagerstown, Sept. 20,1905; Norman Clarence, born in Liberty Twp., May 13, 1908; Howard Earl, born in Liberty Twp., Mar. 23, 1910. Lola died Mar. 30, 1910, age 23 years and is buried at the Brick. Henry died Jan. 13, 1918, age 35 years and is buried at the Brick.

The three sons of Henry and Lola are fine young men married to exceptionally capable and attractive young women, and all have favorable employment. Raymond was married to Juanita Scott, August ,1928, and resides in Hagerstown, Indiana. Norman married Dorothy Currant, of Mooreland, and likewise lives in Hagerstown. Howard married Cleta Carter and with their son, Thomas David born June 3, 1932, resides in New Lisbon, Indiana.

Jesse H. married Grace M. Schepman, of Newcastle, Indiana,
Nov. 26, 1911, and they started housekeeping in New Lisbon, Indiana, where Jesse was principal of the high school. Here Lothair Alwin was 11863 born March 22, 1913; and Howard Alton was born in Hagerstown, where 11865 his father was then located as high school principal, May 18, 1917.
Grace M. combines in her nature those attributes rather limited in her husband, namely sociability, the art of enjoying the company of friends. She loves flowers and nature; and has the German thrift inherited from her paternal ancestors, plus their industry and thoroughness. The Wentworths, her mothers people, are English.

Russell Edgar, married Pearl Elizabeth Downing, of Laramie, Wyoming, Nov. 20, 1920. To pep things up in this western setting, came Patritia Maize, born in Levinson Memorial Hospital, Laramie, Wyo., Sept. 27, 1921, at 4 A.M. "She weighed seven pounds eight ounces, and her shipping condition was good." Kendrick Russell, the son, came June 27, 1924. These two children of the west are healthy, energetic and natively endowed with more than ordinary personality. They get no small portion of this from their mother, who impresses her Indiana relatives as the embodiment of rare and coveted graces. Russell always a deep thinker and the essence of self reliance, has traveled extensively and held fine positions of trust with the Union Pacific railroad and mining companies. He was a teacher for several years.

Grace Marie married Henry F. Weber June 6, 1911. She mothered the little nephews and later had the pleasure of mothering her own daughter, Leola Maxine, who is now a senior in Spiceland high school, and in a very unassuming way is very much attached to her three big brothers, Raymond, Norman, and Howard. Leola Maxine was born in Blountsville, Ind., Feb. 14, 1917, at 8:30 P.M. Grace married Mark Kirklin Dec. 14, 1922.

Loring A. married Bernice Coble, May 8, 1923. Two children were born; Armel, Aug. 24, 1924, and Lois Oct. 3, 1925. Both died in infancy. Bernice is a teacher of resource and ability. She is active in club work in Spiceland and in the county. Her family, the Cobles of near Logansport, are hospitable and sociable, and Bernice carries their good graces even farther than they.

Florence married Elmer Whisler, Aug. 22, 1923. They have two daughters, namely Betty Reba Elizabeth, born July 21, 1925; and Phyllis Jean, born August 14, 1929. Elmer is a model husband, and a good provider as well as a devoted husband.

Ronald Harvey married Lorene Reece, Sept. 19, 1932. They have a baby which they prize above tangible wealth, Rheta Jerene. Lorene is a daughter of Vance Reece and granddaughter of Henry Shock, a substantial Liberty Township farmer. She is wide awake, and keeps abrest of the times to an unusual degree.

The Robertson family has an interesting background. David S. Robertson came from Rockridge County, Virginia, to Hagerstown and married Jane Allen, who came from Chambersburg, Penn. The Robertson family came from Scotland; and the Allens from Ireland, according to best tradition. David was born in 1812, and died May 20, 1890. Jane Allen was born in Pennsylvania, in 1809, and died in Hagerstown, Sept. 21, 1899, at the age of 91.

57109 57110 57111

Mother Eilar's father was John Harvey Robertson, one of the three sons of David and Jane Robertson. Their sons were: William, 57112 Harvey, and Frank. They had no daughter, but when Mary Shandley came from New York City in about the year 1862, as an orphan from a fine but broken home in that city, they had a daughter in her until they both had passed away. Mary is now living at the home of J. H. Eilar in Newcastle, and has many friends all over the county, and in Delaware County, where she is well and favorably known.

63

Mother's mother was Anna Raffe, daughter of Jesse Raffe, and granddaughter of Daniel and Anna Bowman. The three Bowman brothers came to this country from Hesse-Dammstadt, about the time of the Revolution. Daniel Bowman died in Oct. ,1894, at the age of 85. Anna, his wife, died in 1879, age71. They were called "Grandaddy and Granny" by mother, who recalls the happy Christmas seasons spent always at the home of Daniel and Anna. They had reared Anna Raffe and cared for her as tenderly as they would have cared for their child, instead of grandchild.

57113 57116 57114

Jesse Raffe died in 1854 at the age of 25. His wife, Elizabeth Bowman Raffe Studebaker, died in 1862, at the age of 28. These were the grandparents of mother. Anna Raffe Robertson died July 27, 1873, age 22. She was the wife of Harvey Robertson, and mother's mother. She had four children, Willie, who died in 1889 at the age of 10 months; Elizabeth, who is living and mother of the compilers of this brief history; an infant daughter who died in 1872 age 8 days; and an infant son who died in 1873. Anna was injured in an accident and death resulted from complications.

57111

Harvey Robertson, mother's father, died Oct. 15, 1918, age 71 years. He and his wife Anna are buried at the Ulrich Cemetery.

In closing, we may say that the children of Augustus L. Eilar have inherited the desire to go places and do things. They have definitely left the good earth, but definitely love it.

Jesse H. has secured four college diplomas, and holds three degrees from Indiana University. He has taught school for the past several years, serving as high school principal and later as county superintendent of schools for Henry County. He has made over seven hundred public addresses and teaches a large group of men in the first M.E. Church of Newcastle. He and his family have traveled extensively in the United States and Canada.

Russell E. attended college for some years and then after teaching in high school for some time he went into the practical field of railroading in the west.

Loring A. has secured his Master of Arts degree and is a teacher in the Spiceland high school. He has taught for several years and is one of the most capable and popular teachers in the county.

Horace A. employed in the advertising department of the Perfect Circle Co. at Hagerstown. While not yet married, there seems to be some magnet in Muncie that attracts him irresistabely each week end. He has traveled extensively and has a broad, practical education.

Ronald H. is a barber in New Lisbon, and a graduate of the Indianapolis barber college.

APPENDIX NUMBER ONE

1. There is in Bavaria, Germany, a river with the name ILLER RIVER.

2. The socalled Pennsylvania "Dutch", says the NEW STANDARD ENCYCLOPEDIA, were imigrants who came to Pennsylvania from Bavaria shortly after 1683.

3. This same reference shows that Leonhard Euler (1707-1783) was called to Berlin by Frederick II to take the chair of mathematics in the Academy of Sciences. Euler wrote 473 memoirs published during his life and 200 which were published after his death.

4. August Euler is a recent product of the branch of the Euler family which stayed in Bavaria. He was physical chemist in the University of Stockholm in 1898; during the world war he served in the Bavarian Army; and in 1929 was awarded the Nobel Prize for his contributions in bio-chemistry. He was born in 1873, and unless recently deceased is still living, as he was alive in 1930. He was born at Augsburgh, Bavaria, and educated at the University of Berlin, and in two other German Universities.

5. Suggested sources of further information would be:
   (a) Communicate with August Euler, University of Stockholm, concerning background.
   (b) Communicate with county clerks of York County, Dauphin County, Lancaster County, for ancient records.
   (c) Write to postmaster at Colchester, Essex County, Ontario, Canada, for information as to any member of family residing there now, and find if they know why Valentine went to Canada.
   (d) Penn. Historical Society; or German Baptist groups.

6. Interesting Sunday drives in summer weather would be:
   (a) To the Salamonie River at Lancaster, in Huntington Co. Here is buried Uncle Ben Heaston and Aunt Nan. This is the Salamonie which grandma spoke so often about. It starts near Ft. Recovery, Ohio, at or near Salomonia.
   (b) Another drive would include Cicero and Arcadia, due north of Noblesville. At Cicero were born Uncle George, Will, the twins, and grandma. At Arcadia, or near there, are buried: Uncle Jake Eilar, Aunt "Het", and Aunt Susannah Eilar Busher. Elizabeth Eilar Cornelius is buried at or near Cicero.

APPENDIX NUMBER TWO

1. Dr. John Silbert Eilar, son of John, grandson of Jacob, brings this corroborative evidence from Pennsylvania:

2. W. CONRAD EULER (OILER): Father of six children; died 1751; without a will. Settled on 200 acres of land, taken by warrant, in 1738, at "Digg's Choice", on Conewago Creek, near Hanover, York and Gettysburg, Penn. In this same settlement the Clups, Sniders, and other families, later related by marriage, lived. In 1740, Jacob Euler, oldest son of Conrad, sponsored the first Lutheran baptism in that settlement. Valentine, youngest son of Conrad, later bought out the other heirs. Conrad was probably born in the Palatinate in 1684; was in Penn., in 1704.

3. VALENTINE OILER: Born 1722; place unknown. Died Mar. 2, 1792, was buried at Arendtsville, Penn., near Gettysburg, on the Conewago Creek, at Digg's Choice. His will is recorded at York. The Americanized spelling as it sounds is: VALENTINE OILER.

4. VALENTINE EILER: Born in 1745 at Digg's Choice settlement, Penn., Married Susannah Culp, same settlement. He migrated to Canada sometime between 1781-1790, along with the Sniders, Arners, Weigles, some Culps. On Mar. 17, 1791, on Gros Isle (Grozeal), Colchester Twp., Samuel Eiler was born; and not far distant Susannah Snider, his future wife, arrived at about the same time. Valentine returned to the States, and died near Dayton, Ohio, Dec. 13, 1813. His will is recorded at Dayton, and he makes his mark, as did Valentine I and Conrad. The clerk spells his name: VALENTINE EILER. Some of the papers and letters relative to his estate spell his name: OILER, OILAR.

5. Evidence supports our assumption that our migratory Conrad was either W. CONRAD EILAR or W. CONRAD EULER, (OILER). Both are good German names, but designate different families. Says Dr. Eilar: "The Penn. Dutch say EILER and EULER eactly alike, and don't know when they say them differently." German readers in the story of the hare and the tortoise call the hare "EILER" which means, IN A HURRY." But the name "EULER" means "THE POTTER" or worker in pottery, according to Ken Von Euler, son of August Von Euler, and consul at Chicago. The German clerks enter the name as EULER in the Lutheran Church records, and they should have the family properly allocated. It is logical to assume that our forebear was W. CONRAD VON EULER, the younger son who, says August Von Euler, left the Palatinate prior to 1704 and went up into the Rhineland and was lost from family records. The VON EULER family tree extends back to 1450.

6. THE FIRST EILER REUNION: At Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 16, 1936. About 100 in attendance; a fine day; a fine place; a fine time. Of the eleven children of Samuel and Susannah Eiler, representatives were:
10248 DAVID EILER: by grandsons, Rev. Will L. and Rev. Will S. Eiler.

APPENDIX NUMBER THREE

1. A letter from Lottie M. Bausman, of Lancaster, Penn., Aug. 28, 1936, supplements data already recorded:

2. On Oct. 3, 1738, Conrad Eyler and his oldest son Jacob Eyler took out a warrant for 200 acres, each, from the Penns. See Pennsylvania Archives, 3rd series, Vol. XXIV, p. 399. Warrantees of Land in Lancaster County. This land was situated on the branch of Codorus Creek, west side of the Susquehannah River, then a part of Lancaster County, now in Manheim Twp., York County.

3. On Dec. 1, 1763, Valentine Eyler bought of Jacob Eyler that tract of land, on which he was living at the time. Note: The family of Conrad was originally on the Conewago Creek, near Hanover, but the 400 acre purchase was on a branch of the Codorus Creek, not far distant across the county.

4. Lottie Bausman, and expert at genealogy, says of the name: "A clerk at Philadelphia asking a newcomer his name would write it as it sounded to him; but when Rev. John Casper Stoever, himself a German with a college education, put it down in his own records as EULER (and it looks as though he knew the family well) it would seem to be the most trustworthy. I would take it in preference to a clerk's hurried scrawl."

5. The persistence and variations in spelling show in the day of our well known Valentine II and Samuel in the following dated papers before me now:
   a. Mar. 20, 1854: Samuel Eyler. (Receipt by D. Hardman)
   b. Apr. 3, 1852: Mr. Sam Euler. (A doctor's prescription)
   c. Nov. 29, 1828: Mr. Saml Oiler. (Tax recpt. in Dayton, Ohio on outlot No. 48)
   d. Nov. 1, 1827: Sam Oiler. (Same, from Dayton, Ohio)
   e. May 23, 1814: The Estate of Valentine Oilar by debtor.
   f. Apr. 25, 1808: Valentine Oilar receipt.
   g. Sept. 14, 1811: Bill to Valentine Oiler.

6. John George 21289 Eyler, so listed in ship records, took the oath of allegiance as John Euler, in 1737.

7. It is logical to assume that Conrad Euler may have returned to his German home after 1704, married there, and possibly his son Valentine may have been born in Germany, as the old "Dunkard" or German Baptist records state. That would account for church records and shipping records of dates later than 1704, the date of our "control" CONRAD OILER scrip in family papers. The Conrad Iller who came in 1729 might have been our Conrad on one of his migratory voyages to the old country.

8. Corrections as of page 5:

10248 DAVID EILER was born near Dayton, June 15, 1812; Died in Wells County, June 1, 1904, aged 91 years.

10686 ELIZABETH EILER married George Cornelius. 10687

ANN EILER married Mike Busher; not Susanna as stated.

SUSANNA EILER became a Burkett by marriage.

SALOME EILER married John Richardson.

Their daughter,Mary Elizabeth Jane,lost her mother mother when the child was only 3 years old. Evidently the father felt unable to care for the little girl and until the father re-married was cared for by persons living in the vicinity of Millville...for she frequently in later years mentioned playing,as a child,in the shed where the Wright Brothers experimentd with the invention of the airplane.

57119 Later,Harvey Robertson re-married ...a woman named Ellen ___?___ ...whom Mary Elizabeth Jane always called simply EL. Meanwhile,she somehow came into close relationship with Mary Shandley; an orphan shipped in a trainload of orphans for foster homes scattered throughout the mid-west and west. How the relationship came about is a matter unknown to her children,but it was as close as that of mother to daughter and remained so until "Aunt" Mary's death. Mary Shandley lies buried in the Mount Pleasant cemetery. 57112

Few people really knew Mary Elizabeth Jane's real given name. She was known far and wide,by friends and strangers alike,as PET.

SKEPTICISM OVER BLUE EAGLE IS A CHALLENGE-EILAR

Individualism Has Failed To Meet the Problems of the Day He Asserts.

"This is the age of the lifted eyebrow and the crossed finger," J. H. Eilar of Mayor Sidney E. Baker's NRA speakers committee, told members of the Kiwanis club in their meeting last evening in speaking of current skepticism concerning the President's National Recovery Act as a challenge to the business men.

"Capitalism would do well to heed the clarion call of the blue eagle," declared the speaker in pointing out the dangers confronting America's classes and masses, "for seeds of unrest thrive and grow in depression which in the sunlight of prosperity could not sprout.

"Agriculture faces peasantry, the laborer faces poverty and the merchant faces ruin because of the desperate things which confront the nation unless it heads back to prosperity."

"'General Depression' has quartered his troops in the American homes the same as the British did in the revolution. The time has come to rout this bleary-eyed, bloated, demon from our homes."

Two of the greatest obstacles which confront America in attempting to unify everyone under the blue eagle, the speaker said, were typical American traits, "rugged individualism" and "chiseling."

Mr. Eilar pointed out that individualism was typically American in that the nation's forebearers settled the country in order that they might worship as they please and to escape oppression. He said the present sweep of prohibition repeal also testified to American individuality. "Chiseling," he said was a more recent product of our civilization.

"The NRA is essentially an experiment," the speaker said, "but it requires most of all a unified front if it is to win the battle against depression so uncross those fingers and smooth out that eyebrow".

"Regarding both sides of the question we are given to pondering whether the blue eagle is a malicious hawk which will claw us out of the slough of despond."

He pointed out that individual efforts had failed and that unity was now to have its test.

"The nation is at the traffic signal, waiting for the light to flash green, so let's go with the tide of traffic," urged Mr. Eilar, "although it may be the wrong lane, at least it is in the right direction."

President Joe Burris appointed Dr. W. M. Stout, J. C. Dehority and Charlis Butler on the Kiwanis comittee for the district convention in Indianapolis Sept. 13 and 14. It was announced that a ladies and guest night would be held at Westwood Country club Sept. 8 with dancing and bridge to be enjoyed.

A number of guests were in attendance last evening and Donn E. Nicholson was announced as a new member of the club.

EILAR NOT TO SEEK STATE SCHOOL POST

Roy P. Wisehart, state superintendent of public instruction, said last night that he had been notified by Jesse H. Eilar of Newcastle, superintendent of Henry county schools, that Eilar is not a candidate for state high school inspector to succeed Eugene Butler, whose resignation, effective Dec. 15, has been received by the state board of education. Mr. Eilar's name was mentioned with several others as under consideration for the place. He told Mr. Wisehart, however, that the program in his county for the next two years will not permit consideration of the state job. Butler's successor will be selected at a meeting of the board.

OUR GOOD SCHOOLS

That Henry County should stand third n rank with its schools in all the 92 counties of Indiana, is not only complimentary to Superintendent Eilar, his corps of teach-rs and the township trustees who provide e funds, but it is a source of much gratification to the people of Henry county hether or not they have children in the ounty schools. The people pay liberally or the support of our schools and it is a atisfaction to know that it is well spent. he best that the most of us can do for r children is to give them a first class ducation, thereby fitting them for the bat- of life. That the Henry county schools giving our children the best education ill be a great advertisement to the county. The comparison of various counties was recently made and only two counties n the state ranked any higher than Henry. These were Shelby and Kosciusko and their advantage was very slight, not enough to cause anybody to change their esidence in order to get better schools for heir children. [illegible]

Tilling 'acres of treasures'

It began as a six-family rummage sale in 1980. On this Labor Day weekend, that family outing will expand by about 30,000 people or so.

The Farmer's Pike Festival will once again turn a proud family property into acres of treasures." Christian fellowship will fill the air, rising with each note of gospel music. The conversation, handshakes and hugs will be valued just as much if not more so than the hundreds of antiques and goods sold here.

And for every item offered, there will probably be a good story behind it.

At least that's the impression you get from Rheta Land, the proud matriarch of this event.

Mrs. Land's treasure is not a hidden one by any means. You see and feel it just by talking to her.

The telephone receiver tingles with pride as Mrs. Land tells you the property this festival is held upon has been owned by the same family since Indian tribes inhabited the area. Her children represent a sixth generation here, with GRandchildren making it a seventh.

Her grandfather "Gus" Eilar once sold ads for The Courier-Times.

But her father, Ron Eilar — who could have sold this property east of New Castle for a pretty fair sum — is the one who receives most of Mrs. Land's devotion.

She brought in the tribute to him that follows on this page today — and the poem, shown here is presented as he typed and signed it. It is, she believes the perfect poem to capture the essence of the Farmer's Pike Festival, which runs Friday through Monday.

Additionally, we are inspired by Mrs. Land, her courage in battling health problems and her obvious Christian faith and attitude that helps drive one of the area's biggest events of the year.

We hope you will find time to stop by the festival this weekend, say hello to Rheta, her husband Dick, and "Skeeter," their faithful dog. And we are proud today to share with you this tribute to HER father on the eve of another Farmer's Pike Festival.

> “He never cared much for fancy cars or long trips. Yet, he wrote poems and short stories about the old homestead and a fantasy life.”

We've had a little visit
    To me, it's been a treat-
Seems I always feel th' richer
    After folks like you, I meet;
I hope somehow you'll remember
    And really and truly try
Just to drop around and see us
    When you're out-
            And passin' by.

We're not too far, from city folks
    Nor yonder in th' stix-
We've found a spot, where birds fly free
    Out there, somewhere be-twixt;
And we'll share our lot with folks like you
    Or at least, we'll surely try
If you'll drop around and see us
    When you're out-
            And passin' by.

Ronald H. Eilar

GUEST COLUMN

He was born on the Farmers Pike (Road 200S) He died in Hagerstown. His home was his castle and God was his king.

He never cared much for fancy cars or long trips. Yet, he wrote poems and short stories about the old homestead and a fantasy life.

In the summer he could be seen mowing the fields with an old World War II jeep and bushhog or his 1945 Allis Chalmer and belly-mower (that still works in the fields today.) He would be clad only in shorts — no shirt and only thongs on his sun-tanned feet.

He was a barber, a Perfect Circle ring roller, a builder, a poet and much more. Always soft spoken, kind and gentle — yet he was witty and fun-loving. Slow to judge others and quick to forgive. His wife called him "angel" and his daughter called him "daddy."

In his poem "He is the Shepherd, I am only a sheep," he wrote the following about the place where this weekend's Farmers Pike Festival will be held.

These five little acres I call my own
Aren't really mine — they're only a loan.

Soon those acres will be visited by old friends and strangers from far and near on this Labor Day weekend at the Farmers Pike Festival.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Ronald Eilar keeps busy and content at the Raintree Square Apartments as daughter Rheta and son-in-law Dick along with their four children and grandchildren continue to care for the land he loved and wrote about. The book he complied but never published was to be called "Just A Common Sorta Feller."

The above poem — the last one in the book — was written in the 1950s — many years before anyone ever dreamed of a festival.

JUST SLEEPING

Now the laborer's task is over
Now the battle day is past;
Now upon the farther shore
Lands the voyager at last.

There the tears of earth are dried;
There its hidden things are clear;
There the work of life is tried
By a greater judge than here.

"Earth to earth and dust to dust."
Calmly now the words we say;
Left behind, we wait in trust
For the resurrection day.

Father, in Thy gracious keeping Leave we now Thy servant sleeping.

"God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain . . . ." Rev. 21:4

Memorial: Lewis Daniel Eilar

In the passing of Lewis D.Eilar the East Spring Street community has lost one of its oldest residents and most familiar figures. It is doubtful if there are very many residents who have lived in this area more than the half century that marked the residence of Lewis Eilar.

Lewis Daniel Eilar, youngest of seven children of Daniel H. and Margaret Smith Eilar , entered this life January 25,1879, in East Liberty Township, Henry County, Indiana, and grew to manhood in that community.

Almost sixtyyears ago he came to New Castle in the East Lynn Addition area and there engaged in water well drilling with his brother, Samuel G.Eilar.They also were builders of many of the homes now standing in the area.

On July 1,1905, Lewis Daniel Eilar and Grace May Moore were united in the bonds of matrimony in a union destined to endure more than a half century. Rev. C.H. Holaday officiated.

To this union were born two daughters, namely Gladys who died in infancy and Opal, who survives today.

Lewis was one of the ~~early~~ Charter members of the Spring Street Church of God, in which faith he passed away. He possessed a rugged and sturdy constitution which enabled him to live out a full span of life far above that permitted of many others.

His devotion to his wife, who suffered a stroke four years ago; was marked by his constant attendance at her bedside and his ready compliance with her every wish as far as possible. Rarely has there been a union marked by greater devotion.

Recently Lewis suffered a stroke and he and his invalid wife Grace were cared for in the Shady Haven Rest Home on Bethel Pike near Yorktown.

Here he suffered a fatal stroke and passed away December 13,1962 at four o'clock in the morning, at the age of 83 years, 10 months, and 18 days.

He is survived by his wife Grace; one daughter, Lavera 11983 Opal Carter; two grandsons, Robert 11985 E. Carter of Kokomo,Indiana and 11986 Ronald L. Carter of Hamilton,Ohio; three great-grand children, namely Maria E Carter, Timmie Carter, and Lori Ann Carter; and several nephews and ~~nieces and many more distant relatives and friends.~~

His closing days were made more comfortable and endurable by the constant and tender services of a niece Frances Eilar who anticipated every need and detail.

HISTORIC HENRY COUNTY

Orphans Brought Here During Civil War

By HERBERT L. HELLER

In the spring of 1862, coincident with the first full year of the Civil War, a remarkable humanitarian movement began in New York in an effort to find homes and a more desirable environment for the many children of that city produced by its metropolitan environment. The movement became nation-wide and Children's Aid Societies were soon organized throughout the mid-west.

A society of this nature was formed in New Castle in May 1862. It's purpose, action and effect in Henry County unfolds in the following sequence of notices and editorials that appeared in the New Castle Courier during the months of May, June and July.

Special Notice —
Childrens Aid Society

"The Children's Aid Society of New York will send a company of homeless children to New Castle, Indiana, within a few weeks. Those who desire to take one or more of them will please apply to the following committee:

Benjamin Shirk	Emsley Julian
James S. Ferris	John W. Vanse
Miles Murphey	Butler Hubbard"

This notice printed on May 22, 1862 was accompanied in this issue by the following editorial:

Childrens Aid Society

"We published this week a notice that this society will bring to New Castle, within a few weeks, a company of children, with the intention of providing them with homes. For the information of those who may not fully understand this enterprise, we extract the following from the Society's circular:

"There are in the city of New York, thousands of poor idle children, a large portion of them orphans or half orphans, and nearly all of them neglected and abandoned by parents and friends.

"In the absence of all restraint or education, this multitude of poor, unhappy, deserted, and degraded boys and girls are beginning lives of vice and crime. We, as Christians, cannot look upon such a state of things, without feeling our responsibility to God for, at least, giving them the opportunity for improvement, and every person throughout the country partakes in a greater or less degree, in this responsibility. To meet these evils, the Children's Aid Society was organized. Its object is to provide work, food, and homes for these needy children. So far as our means permit, we gather from the highways and byways the most friendless of these outcasts, furnish them with food and necessary clothing, and cause them to be taken to all parts of the country, wherever we can find those who will receive them in accordance with the Savior's command.

"We are gratified at the good results already witnessed from our labors. Very few of the children whom we have provided with homes have turned out badly. Very many prove intelligent and smart, honest and reliable in every way, attaching to themselves the hearts of the families where they have been placed.

"Those, who apply for children are expected to furnish a recommendation from their Pastor or some other responsible person, and we may hope that such applications will refund the cost of bringing or sending the children to them, with a view to aid still more the work we have undertaken. Persons desiring further information may call on either of the gentlemen who have consented to act as a committee in this place."

On June 19 the Courier announced the orphans were expected in New Castle, and a month later carried the notice of their arrival:

"The company of orphan children from New York, already spoken of in this paper, will be at New Castle for distribution on the 26th inst. The meeting will commence at 1 o'clock p.m. at the Court House. Those who have made application, or wish to do so, should be on hand at that hour."

Children Reach New Castle
—July 3, 1862

"In accordance with the announcement made in our column, Mr. Friedgen, agent of the Children's Aid Society of New York, reached New Castle last Thursday, bringing with him a cargo of 46 homeless wanderers, whose distate conditions appeared strongly for a place in the homes and hearts of our favored community. They were nearly equally divided as to sex, in age there was a very wide range — the youngest being about four years old, while quite a number, especially among the females, were fully grown.

"The advent of a cargo of this kind was something new to our community, and a large number of persons thronged the Court House on their arrival. Many were present merely from curiosity, of course, but we were pleased to see that there was no backwardness in tendering them homes. In the course of the afternoon all were disposed of except about half a dozen and next day most of these were provided for — leaving, we believe, but two little boys on the agent's hands. These he took away with him. In their new western homes we hope and believe that these poor unfortunates will meet with that kindness and care of which they have thus far had no experience, and that the new relations thus formed will be alike profitable to them and pleasant to those who have so hospitably received them."

Jesse Eilar--One of the Best Known Men in H.C.

EDITOR'S NOTE...Information for this story was researched and provided by News Republican Historian Doug Magers.

He was the best-known man in Henry County.

Jesse Howard Eilar, an educator here for nearly 40 years, a County Supt. of Schools for nearly eight years, and author of several articles, was said to have given over 1200 speeches during his colorful career.

It was almost as if he was born well-known.

The son of Augustus Valentine and Elizabeth Jane Eilar, Jesse was born at 416 N. 16th in New Castle on February 6, 1889. His father invented a standard business chart, the Eilar Theocratic Chart, which sold all over the country. His father was also a writer and advertising manager for the New Castle Times.

It was once said that if "I.Q.'s" had been used during the time of Augustus "Gus" Eilar, who was born near Hagerstown, he would have been considered a "genius."

So, as you can see, Jesse had quite a good example to follow.

A lifelong resident of New Castle and Henry County, Jesse graduated from Hagerstown High School in 1908. Three years later he met and was married to Grace May Schepman of Columbus. The ceremony was performed by the late Rev. Frank D. Morris, then pastor of the Methodist Church here. Mrs. Eilar died Dec. 26, 1950 at the age of 62.

The Eilars had two boys, Lorthair Alwin, born March 22, 1913 at New Lisbon, who grew up to be a draftsman and engineer, and Howard Alvin, born May 18, 1917 at Hagerstown, who grew up to be a teacher and principal for Summitville, Daleville and Anderson schools.

J.H. Eilar received his A.B. and B.S. degrees at Indiana University in 1925 and four years later received his A.M. degree at the same school. He was one year short of a Doctor of Philosophy degree.

In 1926, the rising young school teacher was named county superintendent of schools, filling the unexpired term of the late Harry Roberts. Three years later, Eilar was elected superintendent for another term, receiving 12 of 13 possible votes. At this time, Mrs. Marcia Landrigan was renamed county attendance officer.

Professor Eilar had served as high school principal in township, town and city systems, including Hagerstown, Winchester, New Lisbon, Sulphur Springs, Kennard and New Castle for sixteen years.

He was a member of several honorary educational fraternities, including the Indiana Schoolmen's Club, National Education Association, County Superintendent's Association, State Teacher's Association, the Riley Service Commission (of which he was chairman), and the Vocational Rehabilitation Committee in Henry County.

That was only part of his activities, however. Locally, he was involved with the Chamber of Commerce, the YMCA, Dynamo Club, First United Methodist Church, where he taught the men's Bible Class for 14 years and the Masonic Lodge at Greensboro.

Following his career as an educator, which spanned nearly 40 years, he joined Perfect Circle of the United States and Canada as economic analyst and market statistician, where he stayed for 12 years.

Well-known for his speeches, Eilar traveled extensively, presenting the market conditions in addresses and after-dinner speeches in cities throughout the United States and Canada.

During World War II, Eilar, along with other men from business and industry, were instructed at Purdue University in Army Ordinance Quality Control techniques.

While he was County Supt. of Schools, Eilar wrote a book entitled, "The Henry County Experiment," which was an effort to analyze the vocational inclinations of boys and girls in rural Henry County schools and provide them with a practical vocational guidance program.

This was the first experiment in the county upon which to build such a program. the study provided beneficial to other rural administrators to guide pupils in their plans for future work.

He later edited the Business Forecast section of the national publication, "The Jobber Journal." Then, after retiring from all his activities, he still remained busy as a writer, submitting monthly articles for Irving Cloud Publishing Company of Chicago, an automotive publication.

On November 6, 1969, Jesse H. Eilar died at the Heritage House following an illness of three years. But nearly 15 years after his death, he is still remembered for his many years of involvement with the education and welfare of the school student.

Civic Theater Musical Director Is Giving 16 Children Singing Lessons For Production

During the next six weeks, Mrs. B. William Eilar, will hear the pitter patter of 16 children's feet in her home at 714 Northwood Drive.

Four will be her own children. The remaining 12 children, ranging in ages from 7 to 14, are taking roles in the Richmond Civic Theater production of "The Sound of Music."

Mrs. Eilar is musical director of the popular family musical which opens Sept. 28, marking the beginning of the silver anniversary season at Richmond Civic Theater.

In addition to the many hours of rehearsal at the theater, Mrs. Eilar will be giving the children, cast in the show, special attention. Although the show calls for only six children in this age range, Mrs. Eilar and director, Chris Ringham, have decided to double cast the roles to give more youngsters an opportunity to participate in an essentially adult Civic Theater production.

All of these children must learn harmony and, needless to say, most do not read music. It will be Mrs. Eilar's task to teach each child his part by ear.

First As A Director

"The Sound of Music" will be Mrs. Eilar's first directorship of a full-scale musical production. Director of music at the First Christian Church for 11 years, she has participated in other Civic Theater productions. She was in the chorus of "Oklahoma," took the leading role of Marian in "The Music Man" and most recently played Meg in "Damn Yankees."

Mrs. B. William Eilar

Though a native of Muncie, Mrs. Eilar attended Richmond schools and graduated from Richmond High School. She was a member of the Richmond Civic Orchestra.

Mrs. Eilar attended Arthur Jordan Conservatory at Butler University on an instrumental scholarship and studied voice with William Jeffries. She played in the Indianapolis Symphony and studied flute with Robert Cavally of the Cincinnati Conservatory and the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra.

Received Instruction

At the Fred Waring Choral School, which she attended for two years, Mrs. Eilar received instruction in directing all phases of a production such as "The Sound of Music."

Her husband is a custom sales representative and production control supervisor at Richmond Record Pressing. The couple has four children, Cheryl, David, Amy and Nancy.

Season memberships to Richmond Civic Theater, are available at Phillips courtesy booth or by writing the theater.

Dear Morgan

Greetings from Down Under.

I have carefully examined the material you forwarded to me several months ago along with material from the FamilySearch.org site and I am reasonably satisfied that my search for Iler roots has now born fruit.

You may recall that I was looking at John ILER who married Ann NAGLE. They had a son named John Wagner ILER who came to Australia to marry Catherine Ann DALTON. My problem was that I could never get past the reference to Ann NAGLE.

I'm now convinced that Ann NAGLE is Susannah WIGLE who was also your forebear. Shortening Susannah to Ann was (and is) a common practice and the corruption of WIGLE to NAGLE is quite plausible; poor handwriting could account for that particularly if the person effected was illiterate.

680 679 1588

Susannah WIGLE (Ann NAGLE) married John ILER in Ontario. Their son John was born in Canada (in some documents his birthplace was referred to as Michigan) in 1833. It appears the family was centered in and around Essex, Ontario. John, according to material you gave me moved to Australia in or about 1851and apparently married a woman named Vera MAY in or about 1853.They had three children, George (1850) Alonson (1857) and Elizabeth Best(1860)

1589

(My) John ILER married Catherine Ann DALTON in Victoria in 1865 by Baptist rites (I note that Rev Jacob ILER and Rev William ILER were both Baptists preachers) They had five children, George Jackson 1864, Alan John AKA Alonzo 1866, Elizabeth Ann 1871, Arthur and John (Jack) Henry 1873. The marriage certificate identifies John's parents as John Iler and Ann Nagle. It may be here that the corruption of the name took place. John's birthplace was 'Canada'.

1. The corruption of WIGLE to NAGLE (given that it was already corrupted from WEIGELE) is plausible as is shortening Susannah to Ann.

2. I've been unable to find any relevant entry for an Ann NAGLE.

3. As far as (my) John is concerned the birth-place and year are correct.

4. He may well have travelled to Australia and married Vera MAY although it is noted that his son George, presumably to Vera MAY was born the year before John arrived in Australia. Perhaps he brought Vera with him.

5. It is a remarkable coincidence that they would have three children with the names George, Alonson (or Alonso) and Elizabeth, however this may have been so and John may have deserted his family and followed the gold rush to Victoria where he met and married (perhaps bigamously) Catherine Ann DALTON.

6. I could not find a match for John ILER and Vera MAY although there is a cryptic entry for a John ILER whose spouse was Mrs John ILER married @ 1858. Unfortunately there is no record of a marriage or death of Vera MAY or of any children born to her.

7. What is extremely interesting to me is the name Alan John ILER, also known as Alonzo or Alonso. John could have named him for his brother Alonson, likewise John's son John Henry (possibly after his brother Henry John ILER) and Elizabeth after his sister.

8. A mystery remains - where did the Wagner come from. He may have added this himself for a number of reasons (including deserting his first wife) I see that John's brother (Rev) Henry J ILER had two sons John W, born 1867, and John W born, 1877.

Perhaps one or both were John Wagners.

10. The birth details I quoted for John and Catherine ILER are all accurate.

11. I noticed in your material that the name Lance was also used with Alonson. My Great uncle, Alan John or Alonzo, was also called Lance.

I'm very conscious of the errors that can occur in various records, particularly in those put together by the Mormons but, on balance I am satisfied that John and Ann (WIGLE) are my forebears given that there are more similarities than differences.

I'd be happy to hear your thoughts.

Cheers

Russ AMES

Morgan,

I just wanted to thank you again for all your efforts. I always enjoy getting your newsletter. I've enclosed a small donation to help you with expenses, you are most welcome.

I notice you do not have my fathers birth date; he was (33594): Austin Skinner born Sept. 18, 1909 in Cooper, Delta Co., Texas. He had no middle initial but was given one by a U.S. Army clerk who needed to fill in a blank on a form. He gave him the middle initial "E" for Enloe, my father's home town.

Thanks much!
